BIOLOGICAL FRAT WEEK-ENDS AT FLATHEAD LAKE

Mrs. T. C. Spaulding and R. T. Young Accompany Phi Sigma.

Members of Phi Sigma, honorary biological fraternity, Mrs. T. C. Spaulding and Dr. R. T. Young, instructor of the biology department, returned Sunday evening from a week-end inspection trip of the Biological station on Flathead lake.

The primary object of the trip was to become acquainted with the station and the work being done there, though the party enjoyed fishing, boating, hiking, and all kinds of outdoor sports. Although there was an almost steady rainfall at Missoula over the past week-end, members of the party said that there was very little rainfall around Yellow Bay, and that the weather was ideal for outdoor sports.

Women's Glee Club Will Give Program

Will Sing at Wilma in Conjunction With "The Tempest."

The University Women's Glee club, under the direction of DeLoss Smith, Dean of the School of Music, will present another program at the Wilma theater tonight at 8:30 o'clock, in conjunction with the picture, "The Tempest."

The program is as follows: "The Dream Robber," by Lang; "Shadow March," by Protheroe; "Cradle Song," by Chrysler; "Irish Hills," an old Irish tune from Country Dairy; "Rose of My Heart," by Lohr.

The Glee club sang at the Wilma last Saturday night.

Dorothy Douglass has accepted a position to teach in the city schools of Kalispell next year.

GRIZZLY BATTALION, R. O. T. C., HAS MILITARY TOURNAMENT

Loren Thomas of Sheridan is Judged Best Drilled Soldier; L. Fetterly of Eureka, Second.

Competition for the best drilled soldier for 1929 in the Grizzly Battalion of the Reserve Officers Training Corps was won by Loren Thomas of Sheridan, Montana. Lewis Fetterly of Eureka won second place. Fetterly was the best drilled last year. This contest was the feature of the battalion's annual military tournament which was held yesterday afternoon.

The competition consisted of a manual of arms "spell down," steps in marching, and personal appearance. This event, open to all basic military students, was entered by a large number of the cadets.

The manual of arms "spell down" eliminated all but five men who were awarded points in the three events according to merit: five points to the best, four, three, two, and one to the others respectively. The five men and their totals are: L. Thomas, 12; Louis Fetterly, 11; Victor Vadheim, 9; Robert Beanson, 9; and Walter Donaldson, 4.

BOBCAT SECOND BEST IN DEBATE WITH GRIZZLY FORENSIC ARTISTS

Russ Smith, University, Awarded First Place in Intercollegiate Debate; Ed Eagle, College, Second; H. Fitzgerald, University, Third.

Russell Smith, junior in the Law school of the State University, won first place in the Intercollegiate extemporaneous debate contest between Montana University and the State college, held Friday evening in Bozeman. Edwin Eagle of the college won second place, and third place was awarded to Harold Fitzgerald of the University.

Six contestants debated individually the question of the justification of the policy of the United States in the Caribbean.

This was the first debate to be held with Bozeman for a number of years, and the first extemporaneous intercollegiate debate to be held in the state.

The general subject for debate was "The United States Foreign Policy," and the specific phase of this question was decided by Dr. David Barrows, head of the political science department of the University of California. Contestants were given two hours to prepare their talks on the specific phase of the question.

Russell Smith receives the $50 gold medal awarded as first prize.

MILITARY UNIFORMS MUST BE TURNED IN BY TUESDAY, JUNE 4

R. O. T. C. cadets are requested by the military department to turn in their uniforms at the time designated on one of the following days: Monday, June 3, 8:30 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Tuesday, June 4, 8:30 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Any student failing to turn in his uniform before 4 o'clock Tuesday, June 4, will be subject to exclusion from examinations. All cadets are requested to see that the following details are carried out:

1. All collar ornaments are to be left on blouses.
2. All non-commissioned officers' chevrons are to be removed from uniforms.
3. The R. O. T. C. shields are to be left on uniforms.
4. Each legging will be rolled separately and then both leggings securely fastened together by the string of one, so that a single bundle will be made.

"GYPSY PARADE" PRACTICE DAILY

First Dress Rehearsal to Be Held Saturday.

Practices are being held daily for this year's May fete, "The Gypsy Parade," which will be given June 7, as the first event on the Commencement program.

According to Frances Nash, manager of the Fete, the principals of the cast of "The Gypsy Parade" and the dancers are practicing diligently in preparation for the first dress rehearsal, which will be held in the Women's gymnasium Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Costumes for the participants in the Fete have been cut out and distributed to the members of the costume committee, and will be finished for the rehearsal.

HELEN ZEH, '27, RETURNS FROM TERRY, MONTANA

Helen Zeh, '27, returned to her home in Missoula Sunday evening from Terry, Montana, where she has just completed her second year of teaching in the high school. Helen, who is a member of Sigma Kappa and of Theta Sigma Phi, is a graduate of the School of Journalism.

GRIZZLY BATTALION, R. O. T. C., HAS MILITARY TOURNAMENT

Loren Thomas of Sheridan is Judged Best Drilled Soldier; L. Fetterly of Eureka, Second.

The tournament was opened by competition between each of the three companies. Company C placed first, A second, and B third. The winner will be awarded the Gildon streamer for next year. Company A won this honor last year.

One platoon was entered from each company in the platoon drill. Company B was winner with Company A again placing second and C third. The rules for this were the same as for company drill.

The next event on the tournament schedule was the squad drill, one from each company. The squad from Company C with Billy Robb as corporal was picked as the best squad. Company B's squad placed second and A third. Each corporal drilled his squad as instructor in close and extended order for five minutes.

The judges for the tournament were Captain Fisher, Lieutenant Rothermel, and Lieutenant Leake of Fort Missoula.

MEDALS TO BE GIVEN TO GRIZZLY BAND MEN AT S. O. S. THIS FRIDAY

Singing-on-the-Steps will be held at Main hall at 7:30 Friday evening for the last time this year, according to Nelson Fritz, Yell King. The new University flag will be presented as part of the program and also the medals which are given to students who have been members of the University band for four years. The new Yell King will be appointed at this time.

MAJOR GENERAL HINES REVIEWS LOCAL R. O. T. C.

Commander of Ninth Corps Area Makes Final Inspection.

This morning at 11 o'clock the Grizzly battalion appeared for its final review and inspection for this year. The inspection was carried out by Major General John L. Hines of the Presidio army post at San Francisco, California.

General Hines is commander of the entire ninth corps-area and is at present making a tour of inspection of all headquarters and army posts within his zone.

The general is one of the few World war heroes on the present active list of the army. He is considered one of the best commanders in the American forces at this time.

He held many responsible positions during the war and took an active part in several famous battles. Among these are the battles of Meuse-Argonne and St. Mihiel.

General Hines holds the following decorations bestowed upon him during the World war: Distinguished Service cross and Distinguished Service medal, Commander, Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre (French), Order of Leopold (Belgium), Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George (English), Order of the Crown (Italian), Medal of Solidaridad (Panamanian), and is a member of the Society of Santiago de Cuba.

Theta Sigma Phi to Hold June Meeting

Sixth National Convention Will Be Held in Columbus, Ohio.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism fraternity, will hold its sixth national convention at Columbus, Ohio, June 26-28, commemorating the twentieth anniversary of the fraternity's founding.

Special ceremonies are being planned to pay tribute to the founders, and during the four-day session there will be discussions of chapter problems; of opportunities and problems facing women in the practice of journalism; Dean A. L. Stone of the School of Journalism has been invited to attend the meet. Montana's delegate for the convention will be Jerry Wilson.

During the four-day session there will be discussions of active and alumnae chapter problems; of journalism education for women, its advantages and difficulties; of the opportunities and problems facing women in the practice of journalism in varied fields of writing and editing; of Theta Sigma Phi's national projects including its magazine, the Matrix, its employment and advisory bureau.

There will also be discussion of the $100 cash prize for the best article on women and Journalism written by any women enrolled in any school where there is a chapter of Theta Sigma Phi.

Eleanor Sickles to Replace E. Freeman

Eleanor M. Sickles of New York City has been appointed as assistant professor of English for next year to fill the vacancy of E. L. Freeman, who will have a year's leave of absence in 1929-30.

Miss Sickles has had teaching experience in Washington and California schools and has just finished a course at Columbia university. Miss Sickles has published some poetry, and will help students in this line next year here.

Senior Women To Be Guests Of "U" Dorm

Graduating Seniors Will Dine in Halls, As in Old Days.

All senior women who lived in the women's residence halls on the University campus during their freshmen year, will be the guests of North and Corbin halls at dinner this evening.

Those women who are graduating from the University this quarter are invited to the hall in which they lived as freshmen. Those who lived in Craig hall are invited to attend the dinner at Corbin hall. While guests of the halls, the women will go back four years to the time they were freshmen, and enter the dining room and take their places as formerly.

According to Elmore Ayres who has charge of the dinner, A. W. S. plans to sponsor a similar dinner for the senior women every year, and to make it a tradition if the dinner this evening is a success.

LEADERS CHOSEN FOR NEXT YEAR IN DORMITORIES

Olga Hammer of Valier, Chosen Student Assistant Director.

Four leaders and student assistant were selected from North hall and six leaders were selected from Corbin hall during the past week. Thirty girls from North hall chosen by Mrs. Brantly, the director, and thirty girls from Corbin hall selected by Mrs. Turner were asked to meet with Dean Sedman at their respective halls and vote on the girls to be the leaders in the halls next year.

Leaders are chosen for their qualities of leadership and responsibility. It is an honor conferred on girls who will be a worthy example to freshman girls living in the halls next year, and who will be of help in carrying out the ideas of the directors.

The leaders are voted on by the girls meeting with Dean Sedman and in turn approved by her and recommended by the hall director.

Olga Hammer of Valier was chosen student assistant of North hall and the North hall leaders were as follows: Adrienne Hughes, Billings; Helga McArthur, Portland, Ore.; Rhea Traver, Big Timber; Georgia Stripp, Billings. From Corbin hall the following leaders were selected: Dorothy Briggs, Havre; Jean Peterson, Conrad; Alice Burdick, Lavinia; Norma Flick, Anaconda; and Betty Williams, Helena.

Department Head Is Making Collection

Riedell Gathers Catalogues, Bulletins, Reproductions for Art Library.

Professor Clifford H. Riedell, head of the University art department, is collecting catalogues, bulletins, and reproductions of pictures from the most important art museums in the United States to add to the art library.

Mr. Riedell has written personally to more than 125 of these museums and plans to have his collection almost complete within a week or so at which time the pamphlets will be accessible.

The purpose of the collection is to acquaint art students with what is being done all over the country, and also to acquaint them with some of the larger and more important collections of the country.

Chas. Dobrovolsky, '28 Pays "U" Short Visit

Charles G. Dobrovolsky, '28, graduate of the department of biology, returned to the campus for a short visit yesterday after having spent the winter teaching at Filer, Idaho. Mr. Dobrovolsky was head of the biology and chemistry departments of the Filer high school. For the coming year, however, he is making tentative plans of furthering his studies at Wisconsin.

DR. HENRY NEUMANN WILL GIVE ADDRESS TO GRADUATING CLASS

Is a Nationally Known Educator and Ethical Culture Leader.

"Making a Living and Making a Life" will be the subject of the address which Dr. Henry Neumann, nationally known educator, will deliver at the Commencement exercises held in the Men's gymnasium at 9:30 the evening of June 10. Dr. Neumann is leader of the Ethical Culture society and closely associated with the Ethical Culture school, both of Brooklyn, and is well known for the numerous pamphlets and articles which he has published regarding ethical training and education. He received his B. A. degree from the College of the City of New York and his Ph. D. degree from the University of New York.

In his most recent article, "The Social Portent in the New Education," published in "The Survey" for March 15, Dr. Neumann said, "Something, it would seem, will have to be done about this 'Expert' mental or Progressive Education business. It is altogether too dangerous. We simply cannot expect children, teachers, to take to heart what is taught in these new schools, and at the same time remain good, upstanding preservers of the ideals of the Founding Fathers.

"Modern education obliges the teacher to ask herself, 'How long would your pupils stay in your classroom if they were not compelled? School is getting to be less and less a place where children are compelled to learn. In the new schools children are encouraged to speak up and ask questions about what is on their minds. Some of them dare to ask why America signs a peace treaty and at the same time builds more cruisers. To the elderly and orderly all this is very disturbing. Small wonder that the regents of a certain state university, a few years ago, were asked to find out whether it was not Russian propaganda that was responsible for the combination of lawlessness on the part of the present generation with curtailed clothing and the teaching of the new psychology."

Concluding the article, Dr. Neumann said: "If more and more children get a schooling which increasingly rejects the thought of compulsion, which encourages them to unite freely for purposes of their own choosing, which trains them to inquire and think and find out for themselves, which regards education as a life-long process where the personality effects of the day's work are of paramount concern, and if, finally, an educational program requires hearty backing up from all the social influences surrounding the school, surely it would seem that the new education is pointing toward a social system much different from today's."

Iowa University will be forced to forfeit its membership in the Big Ten conference January 1, 1930, by the request of Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the Western conference.

Iowa, ousted on the charge of subsidizing its athletes, was granted permission by the chief executive to complete its six-game football schedule next fall. In the event that the Hawkeyes should win the Big Ten championship it would be officially recognized, according to Major Griffith.

Pharmacy Club Will Picnic Friday, June 7

R. Whitaker Elected President of Organization.

Plans for the annual pharmacy picnic to be held at Bonner a week from this Friday were completed at a meeting of the club last Friday afternoon. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Rex Whitaker, president; Alvin Jacobsen, vice president; O. K. Chapman, secretary and treasurer, and Lewis Fetterly, sergeant at arms.

Kappa Psi, men's professional pharmacy fraternity, has completed plans for their spring outing that will be held this year at St. Mary's lake. The outing will cover the last three days in May. According to Mr. John Suchy, assistant professor of pharmacy, a good many alumni are expected to be present.

Clarence Cook Little, who recently resigned as president of the University of Michigan, charged the committee as being swayed because of commercial reasons to set the date of expulsion January 1, 1930, instead of making the order immediately effective.

Major Griffith declared in a statement that recruiting and subsidizing of athletics was so bad in the Big Ten conference that the making of the 1930 football schedules last week had to be postponed.

French Students to Picnic This Evening

"La Surprise d'Isidore" to Be Held in "Open-Air" Theater.

"A" students in the 15a French classes of Miss Mildred Ammer and Miss Amy Yatts will hold a picnic up the Yellowstone this evening. The group will meet at the Law building at 5:30 this afternoon.

Entertainment will be furnished by a trio consisting of Alida O'Donnell, Dorothy Chesley (her famous ukelele), and Frances Ruckman. Paul Keith will give several vocal selections, and there will be a short play, "La Surprise d'Isidore," in French.

The cast of "La Surprise d'Isidore" is announced as follows: Isidore Ed Dussault
Le Docteur Jean Steller
Jeanne Irene Vadpals
Suzanne Lucille Smith
Mme. Duval Anna Mae Hearst

Women Have Convocation Wednesday

Revision of A. W. S. Constitution to Be Voted Upon.

There will be an Associated Women Students' convocation Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Main hall auditorium. According to Hazel Mumm, A. W. S. president, all members of the organization should attend the meeting as revision of the constitution will be discussed and voted upon.

The A. W. S. executive board passed upon the changes advocated at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon, and as is the annual practice, the changes will be submitted to A. W. S. members at the convocation Wednesday. The changes which are agreeable to the organization as a whole will become a part of the constitution.

Margaret Brown, '30, was elected Big Sister chairman for next fall quarter at the meeting yesterday. She will begin plans for the Big Sister movement right away.

Activities.

EVERY student should choose an activity. Extra-curricular activities play an important part in undergraduate life and their worth is being recognized more each year.

As a preparation for life there is no better training field than student activities. Those solving the problems of student politics, clubs, and the like are meeting situations they will encounter later on a larger scale. They are coming face to face with actuality.

Activities, whether athletics, Glee Club or debate, provide an interest that breaks the routine work of the year. The undergraduate learns sportsmanship on the athletic field. He meets some of the better writers in the literary and debate clubs and is acquainted with the better music through the glee and orchestra clubs.

A student attends activities in a receptive frame of mind. He learns much that is of value in his courses and a good deal that is not covered in the curricula. He meets his fellows and comes to know them better.

Current Comment

GRADES NO INDEX TO ABILITY

Washington State College, Pullman, May 23.—That grades are necessary but hardly a satisfactory index to student ability, is the opinion of three Washington State college faculty persons interviewed on this phase of teaching routine.

Dr. George A. Coe, associate professor of education, laments the indefiniteness of grades. He observes that they are necessary but not definite and practical.

"We should standardize and define our grading," Dr. Coe says. "Each instructor has a different meaning for his several grade marks, particularly the highest one, commonly called an 'A.' Primarily grades are a mark of ability but we don't mark specifically. Then again we should find out what to grade. A man isn't known in the world because he remembers that there are eight parts of speech, or that Henry VIII had many wives. Perhaps if we graded the student on his honesty and fair dealing, we would be more practical."

The grading system is a curse to the college, but will continue to be essential as long as we have young students, says Dr. N. G. Covington, assistant professor of psychology. A student is not mature and his brain not fully developed until 35 years of age, and for that reason he is not responsive enough and his work has to be backed up with mental stimuli or what we call quizzes, he declares.

"Grades are as accurate as possible, and an honest teacher takes a good deal of time and effort to give every pupil what he earns," contends Dr. A. A. Cleveland, dean of the school of education. "However cheating often throws grades out of gear. The teacher can never be sure of his grades until he knows they have been earned honestly."

STUDENT POLITICS

The campus political pot is seething. Candidates who have been secretly at work for weeks soliciting votes are now coming out in the open with their platforms and campaign promises. At Southern Methodist university, the Semi-Methodist Campus distributed five hundred bottles of soda pop, thirty gallons of ice cream, cider and pies at a political mass meeting addressed by the Methodist college "orific seekers." Here are some of the highlights of the S. M. U. campaign: Regulating campus morals seems to be an unpopular job, since there is only one candidate for the position of head of the Honor Council. Graft is not foreign to campus politics, since one candidate for the editorship of The Campus pledges himself, if elected, to give "fullest publicity" to "the slightest evidence of dishonesty, graft or near-graft." Friends and acquaintances will not be spared. The first plank of a candidate for the associate editorship of The Rotunda, presumably the college an-

He learns to work harmoniously with others. He is given an opportunity to think for himself. Through participation in activities he learns to study.

Ambition.

A member of the class of 1930 of Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, has announced that he will run for governor of that state in ten years. A club has been formed which will back him during his campaign, and it already has more than one hundred members. In short, it is merely a case of an ambitious youth who wants to make himself a governor, and who has the right idea of placing his name before the public eye early in the game.

As one might expect, however, there are already men who have become his enemies, and some of them are on the campus of his own university. Cannot one start something new—something which promises to bear fruit—unless someone becomes jealous or skeptical and begin to oppose him? The answer is, by virtue of the experiences of the ages past, he cannot. Such opposition may be justified in case the starter of the new idea is absolutely wrong. In the case mentioned, however, the youth himself, according to reports, is capable and worthy. The only reason for the opposition, then, is that some of his classmates are inclined toward jealousy when they see another of their number forge ahead and do things.

Jealousy is an enemy that ambition must combat no matter where or when it makes itself shown. Perhaps the Creator put in that element to make the way harder for the ambitious youth, thereby affording a greater appreciation of his deed when it is finished. Nevertheless, for a good reason or not, opposition is there in all cases, and must be fought. The truly ambitious youth should, then, fight all the harder when he meets it.—Purdue Exponent.

STRANDED

Dr. Young Prefers Own Company.

Dr. R. T. Young, instructor of the Department of Biology, furnished the highlight of the Phi Sigma week-end trip to Flathead lake when he became stranded on a raft in the lake for nearly five hours before being "rescued."

Dr. Young went out on the lake for a solo flight, but he had no intention of attaining an endurance record. He rowed out to a raft and decided to step out for a minute. BUT, there was a strong gale blowing over the lake which carried his boat away before he realized it. The prospect wasn't a pleasant one. Alone on a raft, out of sight, his boat gone, and a cold wind blowing.

Members of the party, becoming alarmed at his absence, started a search and found him five hours later, attracted by his "flag of distress." He explained that at half hour intervals he had raised a stick with a white handkerchief tied to it, in hopes of attracting attention. His boat was picked up the following day, about eight miles out.

A Prof. Forgets

Columbia university boasts of the latest edition of the absent-minded professor.

Students in Professor Parker T. Moon's class in International Relations, "loaded" with notes, cuffs full of historical data, and beaming with intelligence, went into Professor Moon's classroom prepared to slink or swim, and found that there was nothing to do but float. They waited. And they waited—and waited.

Someone finally made the astounding discovery that the professor had left all academic worries behind, and left town on his summer vacation. Indeed, he was so engrossed with the vacation idea that he forgot to give his class their final examination!

The University, however, was not to be cheated of the pleasure of flunking a few students as a result of that examination, and wired the professor, recalling his young hopefuls to his mind, and he returned on Friday, to supervise the quiz.

EXCHANGES

WHITMAN'S CLASS FIGHT.

Walla Walla, Wash.—Several underclassmen were seriously bruised in a rough-and-tumble fight between the sophomores and freshmen at Whitman college recently.

The sophs left an imprint of stenciled cross-bones on the foreheads of all freshmen they could catch. Large numbers of both factions were buried, according to tradition, into the lake.

COPS ROUT SERENADER.

Walla Walla, Wash.—Police were called to rout a serenader, Homer Sweetman, a member of Vey Meyer's orchestra in Seattle, when he sang to girls of Prentiss hall at Whitman college. The girls charged that the musician was drunk, and disturbing their slumbers.

WISCONSIN COACHES.

Twenty-three students graduating from the University of Wisconsin this spring will enter the field of coaching and physical education in high schools and colleges next fall.

PLENTY OF NOISE.

Over 2,000 high school musicians gathered recently at the University of Minnesota to compete in the Minnesota state high school music contest.

NEBRASKA RIFLEMEN WIN.

Lincoln, Neb.—University of Nebraska rifle team, during the season 1928-29, ranked high in all the matches, standing tenth in the United States as a whole. Out of 41 matches in the intercollegiate dual postal matches, Nebraska won 34.

HATCHET'S 50th BIRTHDAY.

Washington, D. C.—The University Hatchet, the student publication of George Washington university, recently celebrated its fiftieth anniversary by a special edition, of which 16,500 copies were printed. Among its features was a rotogravure section of eight pages containing views of the campus and student activities.

MORE QUIZZES DEMANDED!

Corvallis, Ore.—More and better examinations is the cry of students of Oregon State college. A questionnaire has been sent out to obtain an accurate survey of student opinion, resulting in a three-to-one preference for short, frequent quizzes. Infrequent quizzes have been classified as "jolts which push over the structure, and place the student at a disadvantage to exhibit his best.

Those entertained were Mrs. Wallace Brennan, Ruth Smith, Isabel Brown, Gene Wigal, Ann Kimball, Kathryn Munro, Helen Castle, Mary Emily Elliott, Blanche Coppo and Edna Tait.

Zeta Chi Spring Formal.

Zeta Chi held its spring formal Saturday night at the Parish house. Dorothy Douglass and her orchestra furnished the music for the dancers. Mrs. J. Pope, housemother, Mrs. Florence Keaton and Mrs. F. O. Smith were guests of the sorority for the evening.

Decorations were in yellow and white with butterflies carrying out the color scheme.

Boyd-Troeger Nuptials.

Word has been received of the marriage of Agnes Boyd, formerly of Stevensville, to Werner Troeger of Milwaukee. The ceremony took place May 20. Miss Boyd is a graduate of the University and a member of Alpha Phi sorority.

Alpha Xi Delta Entertains.

Members of Alpha Xi Delta were hostesses at a party Friday at which 20 of the local high school seniors were guests. The affair was in the form of an informal tea and the guests were received between 4 and 6 o'clock.

Kappa Sigma Formal.

Members of Kappa Sigma were hosts at their annual spring formal given at the Elks temple Friday evening. Mope's orchestra furnished the music and about 50 couples attended the affair. Chaperones were Lieutenant and Mrs. H. J. LaCroix and Professor W. P. Clark.

Sigma Kappa Social.

Following the regular meeting of Sigma Kappa the sorority enjoyed a social meeting Monday evening at which the seniors were honor guests and were presented with rings with the sorority crest on them. This is annual custom of the organization. Refreshments were served. Alumnae and the advisory board were present and Mrs. Emma Conroy and Eleanor Elsensohn were guests.

EMPLOYMENT

The Kaimin requests that heads of the schools and departments keep the employment bureau informed of any and all positions available to University students.

The Buckbee Brohm company of Minneapolis has a sales proposition open to graduating seniors. The offer includes a drawing account and commission for sales. An exclusive territory is granted each representative for the sale of an attractive line of gifts and curios to art stores and gift shops.

There are several travel bureaus that wish to place representatives in this territory. The salary is paid on a commission basis and the representatives are given special traveling rates should they care to go abroad themselves. Anyone interested in the two above offers should see Dean J. E. Miller at once.

Anyone interested in selling "Wear Ever" aluminum this summer should see Dean R. C. Line of the Business Administration department for further particulars.

There is a job open at a downtown restaurant for a man student who wishes to earn his board during the summer quarter. See Miss Rummel in the President's office.

See Morris McCollum at the students' store if interested in a job for a room during the summer quarter and possibly next winter.

ESPERANTO

Read This and Learn The Language.

Esperanto, the Universal language, which is being taught over KUOM by Professor E. M. Little, is about 25 years old and is coming into more favor every day in European countries since the advent of the radio and large tourist travel.

Esperanto is a perfectly regular language and there are no exceptions to any rule. Everything is pronounced just as it is spelled and spelled just as it is pronounced. The vowel 'a' is always pronounced like 'ah'; the vowel 'e' is like our short 'e'; the vowel 'i' sounds like 'ee' in English; the 'o' is pronounced like our long 'o'; the 'u' is pronounced like our long 'u' with the following exceptions: 'c' is pronounced 'ts'; 'co' is pronounced like 'ck'; (the star over the letter represents a circumflex, for which we have no symbol in English); 'g' is always pronounced hard; 'go' is like our 'j'; 'j' is always pronounced strongly, or slightly rolled; 's' is always like our hard 's'; 'sh' is like our 'sh'; and the letters 'q, x, z, and y' are missing, as they are already taken care of by the other letters.

A is the ending for all adjectives, for adverbs, for infinitives, for nouns, 'u' for the imperative mood, 'as' for the present tense, 'is' for the past tense, and 'os' for the future tense. The verb does not change its form for the different persons and numbers, so for the first, second and third persons, both singular and plural, the same word is used. All plurals are formed by adding 'j'. The objective case is formed by adding 'n'. These rules for the plurals and the objective case apply to both nouns and pronouns, and also to the adjectives modifying them. Nouns after prepositions are not in the objective case in Esperanto.

The pronouns are as follows: I is mi; you, both singular and plural, is vi; he is li; she is ŝi; it is ĝi; All the possessive adjectives are formed from the pronouns by adding 'a'. A few of the small words are: la,

Dora's Letter

Dear Maw & Paw;

Well, folks, I guess I've got myself in a heck of a mess. I ain't been studyin', much, of late, and it looks as though I'll git the gate.

The melancholy daze is here, the saddest of the quarter. And it's just too bad for folks like me, that didn't study like they'd order. Exams are comin' up right soon, and they're gonna spell the doom of a lotta simple little freshmen that will git in the way o' the broom. It seems they have a clean-up, when Spring-time comes around, and us potential sophomores find ourselves on the cold, cold ground. It's always about this time o' year when the grade-curve takes a jump, and the guy that isn't workin' is the one that feels the bump.

Maw, I think I'll go to summer school, I've heard so much about it. And the way the last year's students talk, I can't exactly doubt it when they say they got more out of it than in any other quarter; honest, folks, I need the credits, so don't you think I'd order? They say you have more fun, also, attending summer school, and that the Profs ain't half as tough on freshmen, as a rule. So, Dad, if you'll provide the cash, I'll join the summer boarders, and I promise faithfully, if you let me stay, to obey Dean Sedman's orders.

'Tis said, by those that ought to know, that the cats are great in summer. I live in hopes that this is true, 'cause it COULDN'T be any bummer.

Well, guess I'll have to get back to work, and bone on them exams. The thought of 'em make me say bad words with a darn and a couple o' dams.

The first o' the month is almost here, and I expect some cash tomorra. Please think it over 'bout the summer school.

Yer lovin' dawtler,

Dora.

Optical Illusions

Fluctuation of attention, optical illusions, principles of physics, and common sense all enter into the explanation of just what direction the campus old sprinkler turns, and why.

To begin with, we can state with the best authority that the sprinkler turns in one direction only. According to the physics of it, the force of the water spraying out in one direction, naturally causes the sprinkler to revolve in the opposite direction.

According to the psychology of it, which is causing baffled freshmen to congregate in small groups to discuss the weighty question, it is but a matter of optical illusion which makes it appear to revolve in opposite directions.

If the gaze is fixed on the water, the sprinkler appears to revolve in one direction. But, if the gaze is fixed on the sprinkling apparatus itself, it appears to be revolving in another direction.

But here is the catch. Try and fix your gaze on either one or the other long enough to ascertain the answer for yourself. It won't work. More psychology. All sort of nerve impulses, retinal activity, light waves, etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseum, won't allow it.

At any rate, it all goes to prove that "Things aren't always what they seem" as we're so aptly told in "Chimes of Normandy."

FOOTBALL DANCE

Starting with a kickoff and stopping at the whistle, the S. D. club at the University of South Dakota is innovating something different this spring—not a football game but a football dance. The S. D. club is made up of all men who have earned letters on the various university athletic teams.

Gentlemen: Speaking of champion long-time members of the EDGEWORTH Club, say:—It isn't how long you have smoked Edgeworth, it's how well you have enjoyed the smoke.

Why, I have walked out of many a store, especially when traveling, to stop at some one-hour town and buy Edgeworth. A good pipe deserves Edgeworth, and Edgeworth mine gets. I would not insult it with any other. "The familiar blue cans are everywhere," and usually you find me in taste carrying them, which proves it's not the price that determines a good "smokey" tobacco, but the care and method that produce it.

I would rather go days without Edgeworth and at the end draw a deep inhalation of that cool "smokey" aroma, satisfying to the last puff, than punish my throat and lungs and nostrils with inferior grades.

Edgeworth is "The Smoke With a Personality." Like an old friend, you learn to know and understand, and when troubled or when you have a "thinky" problem—you seek its advice and companionship.

Very truly yours,

Idaho Bows to Grizzly Team, 80 2-3 To 50 1-3; Weather Handicaps Runners

Scant Hundred Spectators Witness Performances; Vandals Take Most Field Events.

The Grizzly track squad was victorious over the Idaho Vandals in a dual track meet held last Saturday on Dornblaser with a score of 80 2-3 to 50 1-3. Coach J. W. Stewart's men had but little trouble in the track events although the injuries of several men forced the Grizzlies to give the Vandals a large majority of points in the field events. The cold and rainy weather handicapped both the runners and their attempts to make new records. Jimmy Morrow was high point winner of the meet. Tom Davis was second.

Attendance Small.

Because of the unusually cold day and the slight rain the usual track fans remained at home and only a scant hundred or more watched the performances of the afternoon. The meet was hotly contested from the very start, first one team would take a majority of points in one event and then the other would do the same in another to even the count. Montana started the scoring by taking first and second in the 100 yard dash, Morrow finishing first a foot ahead of Tom Davis. Then Idaho equaled the score by taking first and second in the shot put, Collins taking first by beating his teammate Kershnik and "Bus" Graham taking third. The lead continued back and forth for the first half of the meet but then the Grizzly speedsters began to out-score their opponents and when the meet ended the Grizzlies had amassed a plurality of 30 points.

Morrow High Point Man.

Jimmy Morrow was high point individual of the meet with 124 points, taking first in the 100 yard dash and broad jump, and third in the 220 and was on the winning relay team. Captain Tom Davis was second with 94 points while Stevingson tied with Collins and Kershnik of Idaho.

It was a surprise to many Grizzly track fans to see their team come through in such good fashion, as earlier indications showed the Grizzlies were severely handicapped both by the loss of men and by injuries that have weakened the team within the past few weeks.

Results of Meet.

The results of the meet follow:
100 yard dash—Morrow, Montana; T. Davis, Montana; Norman, Idaho. Time 10.2 seconds.
220 yard dash—Norman, Idaho; Parmenter, Montana; Morrow, Montana. Time 23 seconds.

440 yard dash—T. Davis, Montana; Klinger, Idaho; Samples, Montana. Time 50.6 seconds.

880 yard dash—A. Grover, Montana; Hodson, Idaho; Jurden, Montana. Time 2 minutes 8 seconds.

220 yard low hurdles—Stevingson, Montana; tie between Priest, Montana, and Haines, Montana. Time 25.2 seconds.

Two mile run—Heath, Idaho; G. Grover, Montana; Curtis, Montana. Time 9 minutes 58.8 seconds.

Relay race—Montana (Morrow, Samples, R. Davis, T. Davis), first. Time 3 minutes 20.2 seconds.

Shot put—Collins, Idaho, 42 feet 10 1/2 inches; Kershnik, Idaho; Muhlick, Montana.

Pole vault—Pierson, Idaho, 11 feet 4 inches. Tie for second between A. Burke, Montana; B. Burke, Montana; and Yrlba, Idaho, at 11 feet.

Discus—Kershnik, Idaho, 122 feet 6 1/2 inches; Collins, Idaho; Graham, Montana.

Javelin—Mario, Montana; 161 feet; Robertson, Idaho; Lockwood, Montana.

Broad jump—Morrow, Montana, 21 feet 5 1/2 inches; Huber, Montana; Norman, Idaho.

High jump—O'Brien, Idaho, 6 feet, 3-8 inches; Nelson, Montana; Mowatt, Montana.

Cougars could win but three, one of the firsts being divided.

The biggest upset of the meet was the defeat of Foster of Washington State in both the short sprints and in the 440-yard dash. Pendleton of the Huskies barely nosed the colored star out of first place in the century but had no trouble in winning the 220 when Foster failed to place. He had run the 440 yard dash just previous to the furlong. Jessup won the shot put and discus and Steve Anderson both of the hurdles races for the university.

Porter Laimhart, the halfback who showed so well here last fall, was high point man for the Cougars with 9 1-3 points in the jumps and pole vault.

HOUSMAN, STONE SEE GHOST CITIES

Visit Sites of Former Towns
Over Week-End.

Dean A. L. Stone and Professor Robert Housman of the Journalism school Friday and Saturday visited some of the deserted "ghost towns" of Western Montana, in search of local color and old traditions.

Among the places visited was the old mining camp of Beartown, once a town of almost ten thousand people. None of the buildings are standing now, having rotted to the ground. Beartown was founded about 1860 with the discovery of gold in Bear gulch. Over ten million dollars worth of gold was taken from the region.

The one-time mining camp of Garnet was visited. Garnet once had a population of over one thousand, but there are now only four people living there today. Coloma, another once prosperous town in the early '90's, is now inhabited only by hoary marmots and pack rats.

The tour of the ghost towns also included the old Copper Cliff mining camp. The present population is one, Peter Shieler, the original discoverer of the Copper Cliff lode. Several old Anaconda Standards, dated 1901, were found on the walls of decaying shacks, with the name of A. L. Stone listed as editor.

Rosebud Publishes Unique Yearbook

The Brier, a unique little annual, published by the high school of Rosebud, Montana, has been received by the Journalism school.

The annual is made up of mimeographed pages and the illustrations are photographs pasted within mimeographed borders. The book is small and compact in form and is bound in gray leather.

The annual departs from the conventional in material as well as in makeup. A section is devoted to pictures and comments on the flood which occurred in Rosebud last year. Jokes and pictures are inserted between the customary annual features.

Rosebud has only about thirty students. O. V. Crumbaker, principal of the high school, is a graduate of the University, as is Minnie Sestak, who teaches English and domestic economics in the school.

Unofficial? Yes!

The contest was unofficial. It won't be printed in the records concerning this year's military tournament. Its entrants were many and the observers were plentiful.

The target was a small flat rock in the center of the circle formed by the spectators. The contestants were lined up side by side at a distance of fifteen feet.

Each of them had tried several times—and failed. Their ammunition was lighting in the rocks in the immediate vicinity but none touched it.

It was the "tall boy's" turn. He drew a deep breath, took careful

E. Crenshaw Winner In Violin Contest

Eleanor Crenshaw of Livingston, Montana, former student at the State University, who won first place in the state violin contest held at Billings, placed second in the recent district contest held in Salt Lake City. Should the winner of first place at the district contest for any reason be unable to attend the national contest which will be held in Boston this summer, Miss Crenshaw will represent the western states as alternate selection.

During her visit in Salt Lake City, Miss Crenshaw was invited to give a recital over the broadcasting station KSL at which time she was introduced to the radio audience as the representative of Montana.

MONTANA TRACKSTERS LEAVE FOR CONFERENCE TRACK MEET

Last Workout on Dornblaser Field This Afternoon.

Grizzly track men leave for Eugene, Oregon, tomorrow at 10:45 to participate in the Pacific coast conference track and field meet. J. W. Stewart, eleven men and Manager S. Smith will make the trip which is the last one on schedule for this year.

The Grizzly track men will wind up their training today and tomorrow leave for the Pacific coast conference meet that this year is being held at Eugene, Oregon. Last year the meet was held here and Missoula fans had a chance to see just what competition is to be met in this conference.

Men To Make Trip.

The men that Coach J. W. Stewart is to take to the meet and the events they are entered in are as follows:

Captain Tom Davis, 100 and 440 yard dashes and the relay.
Claude Samples, 220 and 440-yard dashes and the relay.
Bob Davis, 100 and 440-yard dashes and the relay.
Jimmy Morrow, broad jump, 100-yard dash and the relay.
George Martin, mile run.
Foy Priest, high hurdles.
Don Stevingson, low hurdles and relay.

A. Grover, half mile.
G. Grover, two mile.
Wilbur Jurden, half mile.
Bob Nelson, high jump.
St. Smith, shooting.

Grizzlies Showing Well.
From the results of the meet Saturday it looks as if the Grizzly tracksters will be able to score in several events. This year's competition is something above the usual and since the weather has so hindered the training of the Montana track men it will undoubtedly be a great feat if they are able to score in the fastest track competition in the country. Montana scored 16 points in the meet last year including one first in the javelin throw. It does not look as if Montana will have any clinch first places this year but it is not best to overlook Tom Davis in the 440 yard dash. Davis was last year eliminated in the preliminaries, being barely nosed out when he was taking it easy and saving himself for the other races. This year Tom has no intentions of saving himself and we can be fairly sure in asserting that he will be somewhere near the front, if not there.

Return Monday Morning.
The team will return Monday morning and then will disband until next year, when with good weather and if all the men return one can be reasonably sure that a good team will carry the Montana colors on the track and in the field.

Ruth Bests Erickson 50-49, in Horseshoes

If such a thing as a sensation is possible in horse shoe pitching, one was provided last week in the finals of the tournament held here in connection with the novice meet.

Coming from behind a 10-point lead held by Erickson, Ruth won the championship of the school by a score of 50-49. Ruth first began to show his prowess when the score stood at 49-39 in favor of Erickson. From that time on Ruth began to play a most spectacular game and did not allow his opponent to score a single point more during the remainder of the contest.

Coach Stewart's Grizzly tracksters should make trouble for the other coast schools at the conference meet this week. Captain Davis' work in the 440-yard dash will be watched with unusual interest. While not having won any championships in the conference Stewart's men always rank above the average. Washington university and Washington State are among the favored.

The bulk of the remaining games on the intercollegiate schedule will be played this week. At present the Arts and Science team is figured to win but must get over the Journalism obstacle Friday in order to have a clean slate.

Howard Maple, Oregon State football and baseball captain, has announced that he will sign a contract with the Chicago White Sox as soon as his school finishes its present baseball schedule. Maple led the Staters last fall when they traveled to New York to trounce the powerful university team of that state.

Dink Stanford has selected 14 Stanford athletes to represent the Palo Alto school in the IC4A meet at Philadelphia, May 31 and June 1. The squad will be headed by Captain Nichols and such performers as Krenz, Dyer, Rothert and Edmonds. The Cardinal team is favored to win its third straight national title this year.

Fidel LaBarba has decided to leave the flyweight ranks and fight as a featherweight. LaBarba formerly held the flyweight title but released his claim when he retired and announced his intentions of getting a college education. He recently returned to the ring after attending Stanford for a year.

Tolan, a negro running for Michigan, surprised the track world by defeating Simpson of Ohio State in the Big Ten conference meet Saturday. He tied the world's record in this event. Illinois walked off with the championship.

Montana State scored 11 points in the Rocky Mountain conference meet at Salt Lake City Saturday. Heikkila placed second in the javelin to lead the Bobcats. Brigham Young university won the team championship.

We hope the disturbance created in the Mid-West by the expulsion of Iowa university will work for the betterment of athletics throughout the country.

In many cases it is a matter of strong alumni association that is capable of raising large amounts of money for soft jobs. The school without unlimited resources is at a decided disadvantage.

The first crucial series of the year in the major leagues was played when the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs played for the league lead. The lead changed hands three days in a row but Chicago now occupies the top.

New York fans are starting to get on and ride with the Giants in seventh place and the Yankees five games behind the Athletics. Baseball critics are busy diagnosing the respective cases with various reasons being given.

Joe Bush, former Missoula and big league pitcher, has been released by the Pacific Coast league. Bush, who always could hit, has been playing in the outfield but has proved too slow.

PHYSICAL ED CLASSES

TRACK MEET TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 the classes in physical education will hold the last track meet of the year. Eight events will be run off, the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, half mile run, broad jump, shot put, and discus.

According to Harry Adams about 30 or 40 athletes will be on the field in competition.

Law School Nine Downs Journalism In Close Game; Pharmacy, Bus. Ad., Tie

Pill Rollers, Jewish Engineers, End Up in 10-10 Deadlock; Journalists Out-Hit Lawyers.

Standing of Inter-College Teams

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Pharmacy	3	0	1.000
Arts and Science	2	0	1.000
Lawyers	2	1	.666
Business Ad	1	2	.333
Journalist	1	3	.250
Foresters	0	3	.000

Although outitting their opponents 2 to 1 in Saturday morning's game the Journalists dropped another baseball contest by a one-run margin, losing to the Lawyers by a 7-to-6 score. Because of a 10-to-10 deadlock after two hours of playing Friday afternoon the Business Ad and Pharmacy team will play another contest sometime this week.

Twirlers Allow Three Hits

Powell and Lewis pitching for the Journalists allowed but three scattered hits between them in the six-inning game but failed to come through as winning twirlers because of poor support given them by their teammates. Powell started the contest and was relieved in the fifth by Lewis, who continued the good work.

With victory almost at hand several times the Scribes failed to take advantage of the breaks of the game and did not come through. In the final inning with two men on bases and no downs the newspaper men looked as though they would at least tie the count but Schoonover tightened up and struck out the last two batters after the first out was made on a sacrifice fly.

Powell Relieved in Fifth

The Lawyers took the lead the first stanza when they scored twice on an error and two of the three hits credited to them. The next frame they counted again on two errors after two outs had been made. In the fourth the Barristers sent four runs across the plate on a base on balls and three errors. Powell held the winners until he was relieved by Lewis who gave them a lone hit.

In the second frame the Scribes tallied when Crawford received a walk and scored on Thompson's sacrifice hit. The next inning Crawford and Babcock tallied when Thompson again sent a sizzling grounder to the outfield. Brown, Lewis and Crawford crossed the plate in the fifth on two triples and a double.

First Tie Game

After gaining an 8-run lead in the first four innings against the league-leading Pharmacists, the Business Ad outfit went to pieces to allow the Druggists to tie the count at 10 all in the sixth at the end of which inning the game was called because of darkness.

Higham gave the Pharmacy nine six hits but errors were responsible for the large score. Mellinger found the first few innings hard going but settled down to hold the Business Ad sluggers to six safe blows.

The Pharmacists sent four runners across the plate the last of the fourth then came back the next frame to tally the same number of runs on three hits and four errors. A walk, two errors and two hits were responsible for the Pharmacists' two markers in the final innings which tied the count.

Game This Afternoon

This afternoon the two leaders will meet at 4 o'clock. The Pharmacists who have won all three games should give the hard-hitting Arts and Science nine a good game. Tomorrow the Lawyers will meet the Arts and Science team.

NO GRADE-CURVE HERE.

At Oberlin college grades will never again be awarded—Oberlin students will simply "pass" or "fail" their courses.

Mixed Doubles End "U" Tennis Tourney

Lewis-Stripp Meet Mario-Schauer in First Set.

Two contests in mixed doubles will provide one of the final events of the May athletic contests here this week and next. In one set J. Lewis and Georgia Stripp will be matched against Segundo Mario and Gertrude Schauer. The other set will be between T. Tobin and Elizabeth Perham and J. Mackoff and Mary Ruth Larison. These contests will conclude the official annual tennis tournament for this year.
